In an era when the textile industry is passing through a critical phase, with stiff competition both in the domestic as well as international markets, product diversification and value addition are the thrust areas for the textile industry to remain competitive in the years to come. The innumerable diversification avenues in agriculture, automobile, construction, medical, geo textiles, etc. present an excellent opportunity for the Indian textile industry to diversify.

Considering the above, SITRA, in collaboration with Textile Commissioner's office, Mumbai will be conducting two day workshop on Medical textiles for the benefit of the textile mills in the region.

Objectives of the workshop

The main objective of the training workshop is to bring about greater awareness among textile technicians, regarding diversification possibilities in Medical textiles and also to present various strategies to improve the quality of products manufactured therein.

To whom it is meant

The training will be greatly beneficial to all those involved in the technical textiles industry, Managing Directors and senior executives of textile mills planning for diversification and new ventures in technical textiles.

Methodology

Lectures, with suitable examples, focusing on the various application possibilities in technical textiles.

Eminent experts in the field of Medical textiles will make presentations. The information gathered through SITRA's various research papers in medical textiles will be disseminated during the training workshop.

Workshop duration

The timings for the two day workshop are 10.00 a.m. to 5.00 p.m.

Programme kit
